THE HUB OF COMMERCE.

Daily Proverb—"Our fathers and their graves in our short memories and only tell us how we may be buried by our ancestors."

Boot-logging would become mighty poor picking did the man who buys suffer the same oppression as the man who sells.

Pretty soon Congresswoman Robertson may begin to suspect that she isn't altogether popular with her own sex.

There's this difference: when you hear a man saying and hammering away in his cellar this year, the chances are that he is building a coal bin.

Were Uncle Sam inclined to be resentful, the tendency of the other powers to devour the apples of victory without offering him even as much as a core might prove him a bit.

Things are going up again. A Los Angeles girl is asking for judgment for $100,000 for a broken heart.

"I have a lot of esteem for the prohibitionist by practice," remarked the fellow who lives next door on the way down town this morning, "but hardly as much for the prohibitionist by occupation."

It's bound to be a bit gratifying to the paragrapher on the small island daily to have a great paper like the Cincinnati Enquirer take the same view he has expressed in explanation of the working of Henry Ford's miracle with his railroad.

It has been heard of the exploits of Mr. French, Pont must feel mighty cheap for having had the unadulterated nerve to hold himself out as a "Napoleon of Finance."

But think how odd it would seem to Lloyd George, should he come over for the limitation of armaments conference, to wake up morning after morning without discovering a new crisis perched on the footboard of his bed.

AUDREY CHANGES HER MIND.

Audrey Munson, who has gained some fame because of her announcement that she had an ambition to marry a physically perfect man, being reputed to possess some physical perfection herself, is after all feminine. Now she doesn't want to marry a man who doesn't woo her. In short, she wants to go through the regular process which man and maid have pursued since the cave man quit carrying off his prospective bride by main force, and milder and pleasanter methods came into vogue.

You know how it is with a woman and Audrey seems to be true to her sex. Things may have been going a bit slow and she may have been a trifle discouraged. A little advertising to liven the situation might do some good, she may have thought. Consequently she let it slip that she would be pleased to marry the perfect man. Of course, every man is perfect, or just as near that condition as the woman thinks she can get, when she marries him. If there is disillusionment it comes later. Now, having conveyed the information and finding some willing, Audrey wants to make selection. Not physical perfection alone will do. She is not to be had for the asking. He has got to bring candy, send flowers and say silly and sweet things when he calls. So after all it is to be carried on in the old way. The Texas cowboys may think they are perfect, but Audrey may be able to cite several points on which they are below the standard.

We were discouraged over Audrey at first. We thought she was too eager. Now she has gotten on the regular feminine line and we have confidence when she says "yes" to a man he will be aware he had to prove his worth to induce that reply. And we imagine the man who hears that word will put in days of suspense before the blissful moment arrives. A woman is a past master at dillying with a man to the point of sending him into the depths of despair without permitting him to lose entirely the desire to try again. If she wants him to, it's just like a man to permit himself to be rebuffed and yet yearn for the company of the cruel one who appears to delight in his suffering. But then that's a woman's way and that's enough.

THE FLIGHT OF NORTH DAKOTA.

For some months the state of North Dakota has been attempting to sell what is a moderate amount of bonds, considering the resources of the state at its present indebtedness. Other taxing districts have been able to sell bonded obligations, but North Dakota finds no buyers, though repeated efforts have been made. Non-Partisan league partisans probably would say in explanation that the "money power" is leagued against them, that "organized wealth" is using this means to cause the state to retreat from its policies. However, this, were it true, would not prevent the adherents of the Non-Partisan league, and they are numerous, or were, in the Northwest, from buying the bonds themselves as individuals as an object lesson to the "money power." Yet the members of the Non-Partisan league won't buy the bonds a bit more than others. There is a reason.

Investors seek to place their money where safely along with satisfactory interest is assured. There is no objection to the interest North Dakota would pay, but safety is another proposition. An individual is enabled to negotiate loans on the resources he has back of him of the collateral he offers. His character also enters into it, but it is not the only character. A state has to borrow solely on its character. If the people are prone to be evasive of obligations their credit will not be good. Since the state is made up of an aggregation of individuals the state is the sum of the character of the people. North Dakota has been doing some odd things. Because of that investors are wary. States may repudiate their debts and there is no recourse for the creditors. It has been done. North Dakota might do the same. Therefore the disinclination of investors to help the commonwealth out of its present troubles by offering money in exchange for promises to pay.

The instance is an illustration of the value of a good character and a reputation for honesty. Perhaps North Dakota would pay, but because of the peculiar experiments attempted there, a doubt has been aroused. It is the task of North Dakota to reestablish good credit by becoming sane and again demonstrating it. That is what an individual with wrecked credit would need to do and a state not less.

Upon second thought, Panama decided that, after all, discretion may be the better part of valor.

The girls probably have found another advantage in wearing their stockings rolled down. One with a cotton top thus worn looks just as well as silk.

THE SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE.

From the amount of fighting that has been done in the last decade it might be suspected that restless spirits such as are accustomed to seek army life for the excitement it provides would be well "fed up" and not at all eager to do more for a time. However, the announcement that the Spanish government will recruit a foreign legion to fight the Moors in Africa has caused the Spanish embassy in London and the consulate of that government in New York to be overwhelmed with applicants.

Service in the army of Spain would not seem to be an especially desirable billet, either. That it may be preferable to having no job and being hungry raises a question. That it promises rations and a bit of pay beside is the lode-lead, that is drawing men for the most part, though certainly some are looking for adventure. We imagine that those who are attracted by the adventure which it holds out are more likely to get all of what they are seeking than those who are moved by some other incentive. War with the wild tribesmen is not a pink tea affair. That has been demonstrated to Spain's disadvantage.

The man who enlists to escape starvation may have a good defense for his action. Others may feel that they need no defense in offering their services to a nation which they would as quickly fight against as for. The situation shows that at the present time there are many who are interested in obtaining a meal ticket and excitement rather than in rising over principles involved in selling their services to a foreign government.

However, those who enlist in Spain's service are not likely to find it especially pleasing.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

LO, THE POOR INDIAN!

A dispatch rather calculated to elicit appreciative smiles comes from Cheyenne, Wyoming. Mercury park is Cheyenne's municipal bathing resort.

The fashionables of Cheyenne believe in being up-to-date—in keeping up with the procession. So the women at Cheyenne's bathing resort, wear ultra-modern bathing costumes.

Now, the Sioux reservation is not far from Cheyenne, it appears; and the Indians from this reservation make frequent visits to the city limits, and within.

One day, during the recent heated term, Mrs. Two Bonnet came to the city and wandered out to the bathing resort. She was not alone, however; her dusky brave, Mr. Two Bonnet, accompanied her.

Stoically the two threaded their way through the throng and down to the water's edge. Suddenly Mrs. Two Bonnet gave a startled grunt and pointed excitedly.

"Look! Look!" she gurgled excitedly. "White squaw lose 'um shimmy!"

She had discovered a partially nude white woman capering about on the sandy shore.

Mr. Two Bonnet had already seen; but had discreetly and cannily kept silent.

Doubtless he was duly thankful to the great Manitou that the passing years had not dimmed his sight.

At any rate, he simply looked and looked—and said nothing.

But not so with Mrs. Two Bonnet.

She promptly ran to the white woman and quickly and skillfully enveloped the exposed form in her own gaudy blanket.

Thereupon, Mr. Two Bonnet thus voiced his disgust at the spectacle:

"Tigh! Squaw all 'um time butt in. Spoil 'um scenery. Dammit!"

Lo, the poor Indian!

GROSS IGNORANCE.

What is ignorance? What is enlightenment? What is foolishness? What is wisdom?

These questions are as old as the ages. And they have never been answered—to the satisfaction of all.

And they never will be, probably.

For what is one man's meat—is another man's poison. And what is one individual's mental realm—is another individual's mental terra incognita.

Some one said smartly, years and years ago, of a man who didn't know how to play poker: "His American education has been badly neglected."

Maybe so.

It all depends on how we look upon the matter. As an illustration of the point I'm seeking to make plain, consider the following yarn from the Boston Transcript:

A Pittsburgh lawyer was conducting a case in court not long ago; and one of the witnesses, a negro, confessed that at the time of his arrest he was engaged in a crap game. Immediately the lawyer said: "Now, sir, I want you to tell the jury just how you deal craps."

"Wass dat?" asked the witness, rolling his eyes.

"Address the jury," thundered the lawyer; "I want to hear just how you deal craps."

"I want to hear," cried the witness, "just how you deal craps. 'Fur thing I know this crumman gwine ask me how to drink a sample."

HAVE A HEART, MAN!

Such may not be profanity. But, then, why should one drag into the profligate's foul slough, the term of "scallawag"?

TEXT OF PEACE TREATY SIGNED

United States and Germany follows:

Part I.

The United States of America and Germany:

Considering that the United States, acting in conjunction with its co-belligerents, entered into an armistice with Germany on November 11, 1918, in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded:

Considering that the treaty of Versailles was signed on June 28, 1919, and came into force according to the terms of its article 440, but has not been ratified by the United States:

"Considering that the congress of the United States passed a joint resolution, approved by the president July 2, 1921, which reads in part as follows:

"Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the state of war declared to exist between the Imperial German government and the United States of America by the joint resolution of congress approved April 6, 1917, is hereby declared at an end.

Section 2.—That in making this declaration, and as a part of it there are expressly reserved to the United States of America, and its nationals any and all rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages, together with the right to enforce the same, to which it, or they, have become entitled under the terms of the armistice signed November 11, 1918, or any extensions or modifications thereof; or which were acquired by or are in the possession of the United States of America by reason of its participation in the war or to which its nationals have thereby become rightfully entitled; or which under the treaty of Versailles, have been stipulated for its or their benefit, or to which it is entitled as one of the principal allied and associated powers; or to which it is entitled by virtue of any act or acts of congress; or otherwise.

"Section 3.—All property of the Imperial German government, or its successor or successors and of all German nationals which was, on April 6, 1917, in or has been since that date come into the possession or under the control of, or has been the subject of a demand by the United States of America, or of any of its officers, agents, or employees, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, and all property of the Imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian government, or its successor or successors, and of all Austro-Hungarian nationals which was on December 7, 1917, in or has been since that date come into the possession or under control of, or has been the subject of a demand by the United States of America, or of any of its officers, agents or employees, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, shall be retained by the United States of America, and no disposition thereof made, except as shall hereafter be provided by law, until such time as the Imperial German government and the Imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian government, or their successor or successors, shall have respectively made provision for the satisfaction of all claims against said governments respectively, of all persons, whatsoever domiciled, who owe permanent allegiance to the United States of America and who have suffered through the acts of the Imperial German government, or its agents, or the Imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian government, or its agents, since July 31, 1914, loss, damage, or injury to their persons or property, directly or indirectly, whether through the ownership of shares of stock in German, Austro-Hungarian, American, or other corporations, or in consequence of hostilities or of any operations of war, or otherwise, and also shall have granted to persons owing permanent allegiance to the United States of America most-favored-nation treatment, whether the same be national or otherwise, in all matters affecting residence, business, profession, trade, navigation, commerce and industrial property rights, and until the Imperial German government and the Imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian government, or their successor or successors, shall have respectively conferred to the United States of America all fines, forfeitures, penalties and seizures imposed or made by the United States of America during the war, whether in respect to the property of the Imperial German government or the German nationals or the Imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian government or Austro-Hungarian nationals, and shall have waived any and all pecuniary claims against the United States of America."

Part II.

Being desirous of restoring the friendly relations existing between the two nations prior to the outbreak of war:

Have for that purpose appointed their plenipotentiaries:

The president of the United States of America, Ellis Loring Driscoll, commissioner of the United States of America to Germany, and

The president of the German empire, Dr. Friedrich Rosen, minister of foreign affairs,

Who having communicated their full power, found to be in good and due form, have agreed as follows:

Article 1.—Germany undertakes to accede to the United States, and the United States shall have and enjoy, all the rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages specified in the aforesaid joint resolution of the congress of the United States of July 2, 1921, including all the rights and advantages stipulated for the benefit of the United States in the Treaty of Versailles, which the United States shall fully enjoy, notwithstanding the fact that such treaty has not been ratified by the United States.

Article 2.—With a view to defining more particularly the obligations of Germany under the foregoing article with respect to certain provisions in the treaty of Versailles, it is understood and agreed between high contracting parties:

1.—That the rights and advantages stipulated in that treaty for the benefit of the United States, which it is intended the United States shall have and enjoy, are those defined in section one of part four, and parts five, six, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, fourteen and fifteen. The United States, in availing itself of the rights and advantages stipulated in the provisions of that treaty mentioned in this paragraph, will do so in a manner consistent with the rights accorded to Germany under such provisions.

2.—That the United States shall not be bound by the provisions of part one of that treaty, nor by any provisions of that treaty including those mentioned in paragraph one of this article, which relate to the covenant of the League of Nations, nor shall the United States be bound by any action taken by the League of Nations, or by the council or by the assembly thereof, unless the United States shall expressly give its assent to such action.

3.—That the United States assumes no obligations under or with respect to the provisions of part two, part three, sections two to eight inclusive of part four, and part thirteen of that treaty.

4.—That, while the United States is privileged to participate in the reparations commission, according to the terms of part eight of that treaty, and in any other commission established under the treaty or under any agreement supplemental thereto, the United States is not bound to participate in any such commission unless it shall elect to do so.

5.—That the periods of time to which reference is made in Article 444 of the treaty of Versailles shall run, with respect to act or part of the United States from the date of the coming into force of the present treaty.

Article 3.—The present treaty shall be ratified in accordance with the constitutional forms of the high contracting parties and shall take effect immediately on the exchange of ratifications, which shall take place as soon as possible at Berlin.

In witness whereof, the respective plenipotentiaries have signed this treaty and have hereunto affixed their seals.

Done in duplicate in Berlin, this twenty-fifth day of August, 1921.

UNION MINERS ARE ON MARCH

Secretary Walnright and Chief of Staff Harbord communicated the report to the president and it is expected that the recommendations of General Bandholtz will be followed.

On Special Train.

Columbus, Aug. 26.—That about 200 United States soldiers, from the local barracks, left here at 5:30 this morning in a special train over the Norfolk & Western railroad enroute to some point near Charleston, West Virginia, is the statement made by a railroad employe in the N. & W. yards.

The train consisted of four regular passenger coaches.

Officials at the barracks refused to say anything other than that all available soldiers here had prepared for movement.

Belief was expressed, however, that the special train carried about 200 federal soldiers to Camp Sherman, near Chillicothe, to join other soldiers and remain in readiness for possible movement to West Virginia.

Appeal for Help.

Williamson, West Virginia, Aug. 26.—County officials here are reported to have received an appeal for help from Sheriff Don Chaffin, of Logan county, where it was reported miners and sheriffs' deputies engaged in a battle late Thursday.

The nature of the appeal for help or any details were not revealed, but Sheriff Finson is said to be quietly preparing for fast work if necessary. Everything apparently is quiet at the office of Major Thomas B. Davis, commander of the Mingo militia and at the state police headquarters.

County officials are awaiting word from Governor Morgan before taking any action in assisting the Logan county authorities.

It is reported that Sheriff Pinson is quietly organizing a little citizens' army and this will be sent to Logan county if Governor Morgan issues orders for it to move there.

Ready To March.

Charleston, West Virginia, Aug. 26.—All efforts to confirm reports of a gun battle at Blair, said to have been participated in by 300 deputy sheriffs and a large force of armed miners, last night, have failed early this morning.

Sheriff Don Chaffin, whose deputies are said to have been parties to the battle, has established a wartime censorship and in response to all requests for information, simply says: "We are not giving out anything."

Signs of activity were reported at the encampment of miners at Indian creek, near Racine, in Boone county, early this morning. Watchers said that all indications pointed to the probability that the marchers were about to break camp and resume their march to Mingo county.

The camp, itself, presents an extremely military appearance, were it not for the motley garb of the "army."

Sentinels watched throughout the night and none but those able to satisfy the men on guard were permitted to enter or depart.

Are Millaging.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Federal intervention in the threatening West Virginia situation, today, awaits a report from Brigadier General H. H. Bandholtz, who was due to arrive in Charleston, West Virginia, this morning to make an investigation of conditions on behalf of the president.

The entire West Virginia situation is expected to be laid before the cabinet today, together with any reports that may be forthcoming from General Bandholtz.

Governor Morgan of West Virginia has painted the situation as most serious and has declared in a telegram requesting federal intervention, that the presence of armed bands in West Virginia approximates "armed insurrection." He charges that the armed bands have pillaged and marauded on their marches and that they constitute a serious menace to the people of the state.

The president is understood to be loath to take steps for federal intervention if he finds that the state forces can cope with the situation, but he will act quickly and decisively if reports show the necessity for federal troops.

Awaiting final decision by the president, which may not come until today or perhaps tomorrow, the war department has taken steps for immediate action.

Major General George Reid, at Fort Benjamin Harrison, has reported that he is prepared to dispatch troops to West Virginia on a moment's notice, that transportation has been provided and that the men are equipped and ready to move.

To Prevent Clash.

Madison, West Virginia, Aug. 26.—C. F. Keeney, of Charleston, president of district No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, left here this morning to head off the invasion of Logan county by 5,000 armed union miners.

Just before leaving, Keeney said he had been advised that the sheriff of Logan county had machine guns planted covering all roads and that aeroplanes were loaded with bombs and any attempt to march through Logan county would mean a massacre of the union miners' force. Keeney made haste to reach the men before bloodshed resulted.

The marchers left Racine today, for Madison and will not reach there until late this afternoon or tonight. The miners' army is twelve miles from here now.

Published reports that Sheriff Don Chaffin of Logan county and 300 deputies had engaged in battle late Thursday with the miners' army were flatly denied by both Keeney and local authorities here. A rumor was magnified into a great fact, last night, it was stated. There was no battle or trouble of any kind.

No Order Given.

Washington, Aug. 26.—No troops will be sent to West Virginia until orders have been given from Washington, it was announced at the war department today.

Officials could not account for reports that troops had left the Columbus, Ohio, barracks for West Virginia. They pointed out, however, that this is a recruiting station and that as soon as recruits are trained they are moved to another station and that such a movement might account for the reports.

Infantry Ready.

Chillicothe, Aug. 26.—Up to a late hour, no orders had been received at Camp Sherman calling for movement of troops to West Virginia.

The soldiers from Columbus arrived at 3:30 this morning. The Nineteenth United States Infantry is being held in readiness at Camp Sherman for possible movement.

STEEL BEAM GIVES WAY, CITY BANK WALL FALLS

Dozen or More Men Narrowly Escape. One Hurt.

SMALL PANIC ENSUES: CROWDS RUSH TO SCENE

Firemen Called as Dust Envelops
Remodeling Work—Forget
How To Spell Name.

With only an instant's warning, which proved sufficient for all but one of the dozen or more workmen to rush to safety, the steel beam supporting the front wall of the west center street room formerly occupied by the Hughes clothing store, which is now being remodeled for the National City Bank & Trust company, gave way at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Charles Whitmer, working on the first floor, was the only one injured. He was struck by a flying brick and an ugly gash was cut in his forehead above one eye.

A number of men were raising a steel beam to support the second floor wall in front of the Up-to-Date Tailoring company's store, immediately west of the vacant room, when the accident happened. The beam which gave way was resting on the south end of the brick partition dividing the two store-rooms.

A Dust Storm.
Through some manner, probably because of a jar from raising the second beam, the brick supporting the steel beam on the vacant store-room slipped. There was a crack, followed an instant later by the crash of the beam falling to the ground and the clatter of brick as the wall fell down. A cloud of dust completely enveloped the place for a few minutes.

When the wall gave way, the south end of the beam supporting the second-floor ceiling fell, letting the ceiling down.

Men rushed in every direction, occupants of stores ran out and a small panic followed. For a few minutes fear was expressed that some men might have been buried in the pile of brick, but this soon was allayed when all of the workmen were accounted for.

An alarm was sent to the Central Fire station. Mr. Whitmer was taken in an automobile to a doctor.

Too Frightened To Spell.
William Robinson, colored, was working on the second floor near the wall which collapsed. When the first crack sounded he ran to the north end of the room and escaped injury because of the fact that the north end of the beam supporting the ceiling held. Another man on the second floor also escaped injury, as he was west of the wall which collapsed.

A few minutes after the accident some one asked Robinson how to spell his name. His first response was "Roberson." Evidently, his questioner did not hear, as he asked the man to repeat and this time Robinson said "Roberson." When asked which was correct, the man stated he was too frightened to spell.

ARRESTED AT HIS DAUGHTER'S FUNERAL

Kent Jennings, Mt. Gilead, Is Charged with Forgery.

Arrested as he was leaving the house after attending the funeral of his daughter, Nadine, at Mt. Gilead Tuesday afternoon, Kent Jennings is now in the Morrow county jail facing a forgery charge. Jennings was arrested just as he was entering an automobile after the services, by Sheriff William R. Corwin, who accompanied him to the cemetery.

The warrant for his arrest was sworn out by A. C. Duncan, cashier of the People's Savings Bank company, of Mt. Gilead, and charges that Jennings forged the name of his father-in-law, Hull Bates, to a note for $1,338.26 given to that bank. The charge is an outgrowth of Jennings' badly involved business transactions which since last fall have been in litigation in the Morrow county courts and the United States court at Columbus.

While he was attending the funeral, officers from Crawford county, with Officer Al Brees, of Mt. Gilead, were waiting down street to arrest him on another charge of forgery, preferred by C. L. Hopkins, of Gallatin, formerly proprietor of the Chevrolet garage in Mt. Gilead. Hopkins alleges that Jennings passed a bogus check on him for $25 about four weeks ago.

Jennings, who has been working in Mt. Vernon, came to Mt. Gilead, after being notified of the sudden death of his daughter. He was in Mt. Gilead on Tuesday, of last week for a short time and narrowly missed officers from Bucyrus who came to Mt. Gilead with the warrant a few hours after he had gone.

HEAVY PACKAGES MUST BE MAILED AT OFFICE

Public Warned of Delay by Postal Officials.

Attention of the public is called by the post-office officials to the drop-pings of parcels weighing more than four ounces into the boxes in the uptown district. This is in violation of the postal rules and regulations since these states that all packages over four ounces in weight that is all packages that are regarded as parcel post and are charged by zone rates, shall be mailed at the parcel post window at the post-office where they may be properly examined and weighed.

The dropping of large packages in the uptown boxes has been the cause of a great inconvenience to postal employees and a delay in the dispatch of the mail since many of them are not properly wrapped or addressed and lack a sufficient amount of postage. These are then delayed until they can be returned or the sender notified and the corrections made. It is often impossible for the local carriers in making the collections from the uptown boxes to carry any large boxes and the same are left inside until his load is light enough for him to pick them up. The public is therefore notified by the postal authorities that in dropping boxes in the uptown mail receptacles they are doing so at a great risk of delay and inconvenience to themselves.

THE RAILROADS

G. M. Finney, trainmaster of the Hooking Valley railroad, and I. C. Christian, road foreman of engines, accompanied by A. Ziebold, general inspector of the car department, passed through the city this morning on train No. 31, on their way to Toledo.

Leo Stiner, car clerk at the local Hooking Valley freight office, was off duty today on account of sickness.

A. E. Winice, manager of the Chicago region of the Erie, and his staff of officials made a business trip to Dayton last night.

Charles Shaffer, all distributing agent of the Erie, accompanied by two assistants, was in the city yesterday.

L. D. Fuller, agricultural agent of the Erie from Jamestown, New York, was a caller at the local division freight office yesterday.

Declaring that the Pennsylvania railroad has a lawful right under the transportation act to establish rules and working conditions with its employees, and that the contracts entered into by the management and its employees are now in full force and effect the Pennsylvania railroad, through Samuel Rea, president, has forwarded an application to the United States labor board to "set aside and vacate" its recent decision in the case of shop crafts union.

The Story of "A Store That Has Kept Faith"

Again taking the lead this Fall
by bringing prices to their lowest level NOW—without delay.

THE past months have been trying times for all of us—manufacturers, merchants, farmers, shop workers, office men, every one. First a period of increasing prices and scarcity, followed finally by a sudden period of deflation and uncertainty. But now optimism is the order of the day for stability and confidence loom again upon the horizon and herald the return of prosperity and peace.

We have now passed safely through the most trying period—in all lines —since this store was established, almost 39 years ago, a test indeed, and the manner in which various stores met these changing conditions proved a true index of the type and spirit of the service they choose to render.

The performance of the past is the promise of the future.

We are willing to stand upon our record; we rejoice in the many new friendships we made by our policies; we are proud of the service we were enabled to render to our many friends of Marion and nearby counties.

Early in the war we adopted the slogan "No Profitsteering Here" and lived up to it. Stocks on hand were sold at the original price, when it was customary to "go up with the market." When new goods were added an average price was made on both, below the new price.

And "when the boys came home"—used to paying two and three prices around camp and "over there"—and needing a new outfit at once out of a limited allowance, that slogan was a welcome one indeed and generously taken advantage of. We're proud of all of that opportunity to serve.

Soon, however, the increased demand for goods following the war, before peace-time production had time to catch up, gave further impetus to rising prices—until it became time to call a halt.

Then again, Kleinmaier's, in company with other progressive merchants, joined hands with protesting consumers in refusing to pay the high prices. We permitted our assortments to suffer rather than pay and charge you—the higher prices.

The result was soon apparent. Demand lagged; production ceased; prices fell. The clothing industry was the first to meet the situation. It led the way, other lines soon followed—a few still lag behind. But they will come.

This Spring, at invoice time, we re-marked all goods bought at higher prices to the prices of the new arriving—standing a loss of many hundreds of dollars to maintain the confidence of our customers that "Here is a Store You Can Depend On."

And now again this Fall, we are glad to announce that the lowest prices have now been reached and are already in effect in every department.

Regardless of what other stores may do or say we are prepared to give you now, right in the very beginning of the season (without bluster or broad-side) the lowest prices to be had on dependable qualities. Furthermore—despite the horde of cheaply-made "bargain-merchandise" which is being thrown on the market now, seeking to attract "the penny-wise and pound foolish" with catch-penny prices—at Kleinmaier's you will find only first-quality standard known merchandise at prices that every one can pay. We will continue to "keep faith" with the increasing numbers who have learned to depend on "The Store for Values."

It was held by many that this gives the United States a powerful hand for it holds the right to step in at any time and participate with the European powers in important decisions with regard to the Versailles pact. Yet there are no untangling

DE VALERA IS NAMED TO LEAD

to appoint negotiators." De Valera said he had interpreted Premier Lloyd George's letter of July 13 as meaning that the Sinn Fein was asked to accept the principle that the geographical propin-quity of England and Ireland, imposed upon Ireland subordination to the precedence of Great Britain's strategic interest.

The Irish cabinet was summoned to meet today. While the Irish are understood to be blunt in the tone of their rejection, government officials are hopeful.

"Eamon de Valera rejects the English proposition, but wishes to continue the negotiations," said the parliamentary correspondent of the Daily Chronicle. "His letter is by no means satisfactory."

The British victory of Ireland, Lord Fitzmaurice, was summoned to London to confer with Premier Lloyd George and Mr. Harcourt Woolley, chief secretary for Ireland.

form of an ultimatum fixing a time-limit for acceptance of the principle of the English peace offer by the Sinn Fein. It is charged that the Irish republican army is taking advantage of the truce to reorganise.
De Valera emphasized the rights of small nations. His communication continued.

"Holland, Denmark, can be subservient to Germany; Belgium could be made subservient to Germany or France. Portugal could be overawed by Spain and so on. To speak of Ireland seceding from a partnership she has never accepted and from an allegiance she has never undertaken to render, is fundamentally false, just as the claim that we must subordinate our independence to the interests of British strategy is fundamentally unjust."

"If the refusal to betray our nation's honor be made an issue for war with Great Britain, we should deprecate it. We are conscious of responsibility toward the living just as we are mindful of the obligations to our heroic dead. We never sought and we do not seek war, but if war is made upon us we must defend ourselves.

"I shall remain confident that whether our defense is successful or unsuccessful, nobody will ever presume that the nation surrender its birthright."

"We long for the end of the conflict. If your government is determined to impose its will by force and antecedent negotiations and insulate upon conditions involving the whole of our national position, it would make the negotiations a mockery and the responsibility of the conflict then would rest with you."

Speech Promised.

Dublin, Aug. 24.—Attracted by the promise of a speech from Eamon de Valera outlining the Sinn Fein's next peace move, thousands of persons gathered at Mansion House today, for the third public session of Dail Eireann.

All the seats were occupied and all the standing room taken long before time for the opening. A detachment from the Irish republican army kept order and regulated the long line of people who stood outside for more than an hour before the doors were thrown open.

Five thousand persons were turned away from the already overcrowded legislative chamber. A large proportion of the audience was composed of women and thousands of women, who were unable to enter the spectators' gallery, stood outside.

Among the women spectators was
Mrs. Despard, a sister of Lord
French, lord lieutenant of Ireland.
Mrs. Despard is a Sinn Fein sympathizer, despite the hostilities of the republicans toward her brother.

Eamon de Valera was wildly cheered as he entered the room.
Among the Americans present were Frank P. Walsh, of New York and Kansas City and Harry Boland, of New York. Mr. Walsh has been visiting friends in the country, but motored into Dublin for the meeting.

According to French, the Pacific Trust company is a financial wall which "never had a home and never did a public business." The charter, he said, was purchased for him and his associates by John W. Worthington, now under indictment in connection with mail robberies totaling $4-$60,000. Dealing with that he had connection with Worthington's successor, French declared the charter purchase was only an ordinary business deal.

Alva Harshman, French's successor, who led federal agents to the hiding place of approximately $2-$3,000,000 in notes and securities at Milwaukee, is treasurer of the trust company, French said, and on Harsh-man, who has turned state's evidence, he placed the responsibility for the affairs of the Missouri organization.

In "Mucker Net." The trail of "frenzied finance" tracked through the world of business by the Worthington-French band of "financial pirates," led to the blue-blooded envoys of British royalty, according to revelations made here today.
It was learned that members of the British royal family in London have been camped being dragged into the "mucker net" of the Worthington-French band.

The plot, which was to involve royalty, included the formation of a gigantic $100,000,000 "world banker" to fight the United States banking corporation, the American Banking Trust and the "coal trust."

These startling facts were gained by federal agents today from a "little brown book" owned by Alva Harshman, of Milwaukee, the government's chief witness against the band.

MORE ARRESTS IN FRENCH CASE

trust now was carried out.
Suspecting the idea that Colonel John Clinis, assistant district attorney, had any evidence of fragmentary against him, the fifty-five-year-old promoter of a score or more of "big business" enterprises, which the government declared never paid beyond the paper stage, suspected former declarations that the district attorney is a "honest but much misled man."

French, who claims San Diego, California as his home, told his side of the story of the Pacific Trust company of Milwaukee, described by Colonel Clinis as a "tin can" organization, whose only equipment was a hotel head box, a note for $20,000, a piece of paper signed by seven men and the charter of a defect company.

to the signing of the German peace terms are still a matter of consideration.

be sent to Germany to do preliminary work prior to the ratification of the pact. Secretary of Commerce Hoover is expected to take steps to lay the groundwork for American business so that there may be no time lost in opening the German market once diplomatic relations are resumed.

American Commissioner Ellis Dresel, now in Berlin, is expected to continue to represent the United States for the time being and it is probable that a German commissioner will be sent to the United States.
A domestic problem of importance which confronts the president as the result of the signing of the treaty, is that of amnesty for the so-called political prisoners. Some months ago when an amnesty delegation called upon the president and urged freedom for Eugene V. Debs and others now in prison for war offenses, the chief executive stated that he did not feel that he could grant amnesty while the United States was still technically at war with Germany. It remains to be seen whether the president will now feel it proper to release these prisoners, the war having been finally ended and peace established with Germany.

Renewed pressure for amnesty will be brought to bear upon the president and it is expected here he will make some public decision within a short time.

Satisfaction.

There was a general feeling of satisfaction in official circles here today over the signing of the treaty and in many quarters it was regarded as a singular coup for the administration, inasmuch as it gives the United States the right to participate in all of the commissions established by the Versailles pact without imposing any responsibility upon this nation. The United States also holds the position of enjoying the advantages of the military division, the reparations, economic and economic division, these sections of the treaty relating to social navigation, ports, water ways and railways and all other questions.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE TORTOISES.

(Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Come on, Nurse Jane! Get in a somersault, and bumped his ready!" called Uncle Wiggly one horse so hard that he cried "Wow!" day, as he hurried into the hollow stump bungalow.

"Get ready? Ready for what?" asked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. "If you mean ready to have my ears nibbled by the Fox or Wolf, I don't care to, thank you!"

"Oh, it isn't that!" laughed the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I mean get ready to ride with me for a ride in my automobile."

"I'm always ready for that," spoke Nurse Jane, and soon she had on her bonnet and shawl, and was sitting beside Mr. Longears in the machine which had bologna sausages for tires and a turnip for a steering wheel.

Uncle Wiggly sprinkled a little salt on the sausage tires and the wheels began to move slowly, carrying the bunny and Nurse Jane off on a little ride.

"This is lovely," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy as they passed a field of carrots. "But I'd like to go a little faster."

"Nothing is easier," said Uncle Wiggly. So he just sprinkled a little pepper on the sausage tires

Down the road, came the Fuzzy Fox!

and they went as fast as a girl skipping rope vinegar fashion.

"Ah, I like this!" said Nurse Jane. On and on rode the bunny rabbit gentleman and his muskrat lady housekeeper, and as they turned into a country lane, where the green grass grew like a velvet carpet, and where the tires made shade, Uncle Wiggly was going quite fast.

"Stop! Hold on! Wait a minute!" suddenly cried Nurse Jane.

"What's the matter? Is your bonnet coming off?" asked Uncle Wiggly as he made the auto go more slowly.

"No, but see!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "The road ahead is filled with round, cobblestones. If you bump over them going so fast, you'll break something!"

"That's so," admitted Uncle Wiggly, but just then a voice spoke up and said:

"If you please, we are not cobblestones! We are land tortoises, something like mud turtles, only we live on land instead of in the water. And we're very glad you didn't run over us, Uncle Wiggly."

"I'm glad, also," spoke the bunny. And then he and Nurse Jane saw that what they thought were stones were really tortoises, with a round, hard, stone-like shell on their back. And as the tortoises could pull their heads, legs and tails inside their shells, and close up the holes, they looked almost like stones.

"We pull in our heads, tails and legs when we think there is danger," said the largest tortoise, "but we now know you won't hurt us we can leave them out."

"Indeed, I wouldn't harm you for the world," said kind Uncle Wiggly, and he guided his auto so carefully among the tortoises out in the road that he didn't so much as nip the tail of one.

The tortoises thanked the bunny for being so thoughtful toward them and said they hoped some day to do him a favor. Well, the chance came sooner than they expected.

It was about a week after when Uncle Wiggly was on his way home from the store, where he had gone to get Nurse Jane a new solid dish pan at the three and four cent store.

"I think I'll have a short cut through Tortoise lane and get home sooner," thought the bunny. So he hopped through the grassy road where he had seen so many tortoises the week before. The bunny wasn't in his auto this time. Not a tortoise was in sight, however.

Uncle Wiggly was hopping happily alone when, all of a sudden, a voice cried:

"I'll get you now! You can't get away! I can ride faster than you can hop!" And down the road came the Fuzzy Fox on a bicycle!

Well, Uncle Wiggly started to run, but the Fox on the bike could come along much faster and he was almost going to catch the bunny rabbit gentleman, when, all of a sudden, another voice cried:

"Now, brothers, this is our chance to hold Uncle Wiggly!"

With that, out from the bushes came hundreds of tortoises. They placed themselves in and across the road, drew their heads, legs and tails inside their shells and there they sat, like a lot of stones. And the Fox, riding fast, stored his bicycle among a lot of the tortoise stones. They got under the wheels and he was upset, thrown head over heels

SECRETS NO MORE

(Copyright, 1921—Thompson Feature Service.)

Q.—What two famous stars recently obtained almost simultaneous divorces in Rhode Island?

A.—Pearl White is unattached again. She recently obtained a divorce in Rhode Island from her husband, Captain Wallace McCutcheon.

She married McCutcheon after her return from France after the armistice and he has appeared with her in several pictures. About the same time Crane Wilbur obtained a divorce from his wife, Florence Wilbur; his divorce also being granted in Rhode Island. Perhaps movie folk have discovered a new Reno in the East.

The Wilburs have been separated for about a year and a half, but the granting of the divorce was a big surprise to Mrs. Wilbur, who is living in San Francisco. As Florence Dunbar she is well known in motion pictures.

Q.—What is Leatrice Joy's real name and is she married?

A.—So far as we have been able to discover that is her real name, although we believe she changed her first name from Beatrice to Leatrice. Miss Joy is not married—yet. She is engaged to handsome Jack Gilbert.

Q.—How old are Bill Farnum and Louise Lovely?

A.—Bill was forty-five years old on the Fourth of July last, while Louise is just twenty years younger.

Q.—Where does Tom Moore live?

A.—Here's Tom's latest address: 1919 Van Ness avenue, Los Angeles, California.

Q.—Who is "Fatty" Arbuckle's latest heavyweight rival in the movies?

A.—The latest fatty in the movies is Leon Weekes, who weighs about 240 pounds and stands six feet, two inches in his holeproofs.

BASEBALL GOSSIP.

Tagging the Haves.
 The Yanks were jerked out of first place with violence when the Indians finally got going as the score of fifteen to one testified.

Ponderous Fred Toney's homer with two on and his highly effective twirling, raised the Giants another notch nearer the Pirates.

Schmidt's three-base smash with two on, decided a pitchers' battle between Cheever and Grimes in favor of the Dodgers.

Marquard's straight pitching caused the Phils' downfall after winning four straight—an unprecedented feat for them.

McHenry's two doubles and one triple were chiefly responsible for the Cardinals' win over the Braves.

The Tigers dropped the last of their series with the Senators through their failure to solve Mogridge.

The Sox had a field day at bat and won easily from the Athletics.

WITH THE PUGS

Begin Training.
 Chicago, Aug. 26—Charley White, Chicago lightweight, started training here today for his bout with Benny Valger, of New York, in Philadelphia, August 31. The men will box eight rounds with no decision.

Has Injured Hand.
 Chicago, Aug. 26—An injury to his hand, sustained in training, has compelled Midget Smith, the New York bantam, to postpone his bout with Joe Burman at East Chicago. The scrap, which was set for September 2, will be held September 9.

LABOR DAY BOXING UNDER EAGLES' AUSPICES.

Will Be Staged at Lincoln Park.
 The Scrappers.

One of the best fight shows ever staged in the city will be put on under the auspices of the Eagles at Lincoln park as a closing attraction for the Labor day celebration at 5 p. m. September 5. The show will consist of four bouts with a total of thirty-two scheduled rounds and the fighters in every bout are of high class and have reputation of more note than many who have taken part in the main bouts of some of the past shows.

The Eagles have gone to a large expense to give the fans a real card of fights between fighters of prominence. The fighters have been booked under heavy forfeits and there will be no disappointments for the fans in not seeing the boxers advertised. The fighters are all men of the best of reputation in the ring sport and all have excellent records.

The main bout will be twelve rounds between Frankie Nessler, of Cincinnati, and Johnnie Rinal, of Cleveland, at 130 pounds. Nessler is considered one of the best men in the state in his class and has been in main bouts in many of the large shows in Ohio and surrounding states. He has gained a long list of victories and fought a number of draws with some seeking championship honors.

Rinal, who comes from the Dunn stable, is classed as one of the most promising boys in Cleveland or vicinity. His ring experience is not unknown to local followers of the sport. In his two years of fighting he has met some of the best in his class and has never been knocked down. His victory over Sam Humphries, English champion, who is now fighting with success around New York, stamps Rinal as a comer.

The semi-final bout of eight rounds will bring together Earl Butler, of Cincinnati, and Tony Cullato, of Cleveland, at 135 pounds. Cullato is a hard fighter from the Dunn stable and will be a hard man to beat. Butler is a real KO artist and has a fine record. He is considered one of the hardest hitters in the game and has won his last four fights by knock-out, while last Monday he received the decision in ten rounds with Tommy Coster, of Columbus.

Johnny Gerry, the local fighter, will have a real test when he meets Eddie Burke, of Columbus. Gerry has been going fine and is improving fast. He is training hard for the bout and expects to enter the ring in the best shape he has ever been and gain a victory over his man. Burke is a left hander with a hard punch in each mitt. He has had more ring experience than Gerry and is a fast fighter.

The curtain-raiser of six rounds will bring together two fighters who are rated higher than many who have appeared in main bouts in past shows here. This will be at 130 pounds with Richie Colbert, of Cleveland, and Jimmy Barr, of Columbus, as the principals. Colbert won the amateur championship in Cleveland last year, and has won all his professional bouts by the knock-out route. Barr is a second edition of K. O. Mats and is one of the best men in his class in Columbus. He appeared in most of the best shows in Columbus, last winter, in main bouts and semi-finals and the promoters of the local show were very fortunate in securing him and such an opponent as he will face.

VELOCK ON SPORTS

Newport, Rhode Island, Aug. 26

Two little brown sons of Nippon, Ichijima Kumagae and Zenzo Shimidzu, were well on the highway to victory in the finals of the Davis cup tie when play was resumed here today against the Australians. Japan's two-man team, by virtue of its decisive victory in the initial singles matches, needs but one more win in three remaining matches to enter the challenge round against the defending American team at Forest Hills, starting September 2 and tennis devotees were agreed that it was all over but the shouting.

Today's schedule called for but one match, a doubles affair with the two Japanese pitted against Jo Anderson and C. V. Todd, of the Antipodean quartet. And because of the snap and style the Japs exhibited in yesterday's matches, they were favorites to clinch the victory this afternoon.

Regardless of the outcome of the doubles match, the two remaining singles matches scheduled for Saturday will be played with Kumagae meeting Anderson and Shimidzu pitted against J. B. Hawkes, who lost a hard five-set match to Kumagae, yesterday.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Morfimer
Louis Edwins

When I let Jubilee down by the rope in his teeth this morning my ant put her head out of her window and looked all around just before Jubilee got as far down as she was, and she staid there quite a while, so when she pulled in her head I knew that she would be watching so I pulled Jubilee up again and took him under my arm and out through the attic to the little door that opens on the kitchen roof. I took him out on the roof and let him down by the rope in his teeth, and I was kneeling down on my hands and knees looking over at him, when I heard someone laughing and there was Mr and Mrs Farrel out in their backyard by the silver looking up at me, so I made a face at them and went back in and put on my pants.

I wish people would mind their own business, and I wish I had a tame ant eater that would not eat anything but ants. I would have it upstairs some morning and then I would let the rope down and jerk it around till it made a noise outside of my ant's window, and then it when she stuck her head out I would let the ant eater down on the back of her neck, and then I would shut my window and go down and milk the cow and her sister and when my mother went to look for my ant she would find out that we did not have any more ant than a rabbit.

I bet I could make a lot of money renting my ant eater out after I got through with it. If I was a little boy's ant I would be a sport and make him like me and would not always be watching him and telling things on him. I bet I would be the only ant in the world like that.

When I was milking the cow the Lost Bag of Tripe stuck his head in the manure hole and I asked him if Frenchy could not catch him in a million years and then he started to climb through the manure hole and when he got about half way through someone got him by the feet and pulled him out and they were scrapping on the manure pile and pretty soon Frenchy got up with a bloody nose and skinned out and the Lost Bag of Tripe was chasing him and the cow had her foot in the milk pail when I turned around.

We played ball and went and got some apples and some grapes and some carrots and went swimming and after our cows and never did see them all day. The next time one of them chases the other I am going to run along to see what happens.

When I was milking the cow my ant had polished her shoes and set them out on the step to dry, and when I went to go in Jubilee had them and had chewed them into rags. I put them under the step because if she thought Jubilee done it she would poison him because that is the way ants are. She thought a tramp swiped them. I guess a tramp could wear them all right.
